

Gary Soo's Chambers Go Virtual with its ADR Annex

PRESS RELEASE

We are pleased to announce the launch of our ADR Annex, which is set to provide online and on-site support for Gary Soo's Chambers, for operating wholly virtually and accessible globally.

This manner of working is highly suitable for enabling barristers to conduct legal professional practices in and outside Hong Kong, with or without overseas elements. "We are pleased to be possibly among the first sets of virtual Chambers operating from Hong Kong, providing direct and easy access to our members and at the same time allowing high flexibility for all," said Prof. Gary Soo, Head of Chambers.

For users of dispute resolution services, appointments of barristers at the Chambers as arbitrators, mediators and adjudicators are made straightforward. All members are with document management and secretariat support that are tailored to be appropriate to their own mode of working. Direct professional access to barristers is likewise user-friendly now, with the service platform of the ADR Annex.
